Wausau names Jason Green as an architectural sales representative in the Eastern region

Wausau, Wisconsin (Sept. 2015) – Jason Green has joined Wausau Window and Wall Systems as an architectural sales representative serving Connecticut, northern Delaware, western Massachusetts, southern New Jersey, upstate New York, eastern Pennsylvania and Vermont.

Green reports directly to Wausau's regional sales manager, Ryan Noble. Working closely with Noble and his colleagues at Wausau, Green provides commercial building owners, design professionals and construction teams with educational and technical resources including product selection for high-performance window and curtainwall systems.

For the past five years, Green worked with Hilti USA. Most recently, he worked with building owners, architects, general contractors and installers throughout Indiana on their life-safety plan as a firestop specialist. Previously based in Central Ohio, his earlier account management positions were focused on growing Hilti's commercial building construction segment. Prior to Hilti, Green worked in project management with general contractor McDonalds' Design & Build, Inc. of Ohio.

In addition to his professional experience, Green earned a bachelor's degree in finance from the University of Toledo.
